Objectives

Protection of children is one of the Czech Republic's highest priorities in the area of justice and home affairs, with a direct connection to the motto of the Czech Presidency – "Open and secure Europe". The Czech Republic continues in activities launched by French Presidency which initiated a text of the Council Conclusions in which it calls on the Member States to develop child alert systems at the national level. The main purpose of the conference - opened by Ivan Langer, Minister of the Ministry of the Interior of the Czech Republic - is to share best practice knowledge and contribute to developing and improving of systems on the national level.

Target Group

The conference should be a particular interest of experts involved in implementing or developing child alert systems, including policy makers, public officials, law enforcement, NGOs and others. The participation is limited: 2 maximally 3 persons per country.

Description

The main topics of the conference are:

- 1) problem of child protection, as regards missing and abducted children and the protection of the children against criminal offenders
- 2) presentation national alert systems in GB (National Policing Improvement Agency), France, Greece (The Greek Centre for Missing and Exploited Children), Belgium, USA (ICMEC), ...
- 3) presentation of the Czech scheme of alert system
- 4) outcome of the Czech Presidency child protection questionnaire (SIRENE)
- 5) better use of the SIS for the purpose of searching for missing children
